To my Angel.

Mum gave me happy birth And now I am on this Earth. I'm glad to live, to breathe, to be Cause Mummy's being is with me.

Mummy cleans, washes, cooks, She retells me unread books. Mummy knows much, a lot And is ready to support.

She feels whenever I'm ill, And makes me take a bitter pill And doesn't sleep at all at night She prays and leaves a damping light.

Mummy helps me with my deeds And realizes all my needs. I rely on her piece of advice She is kind, clever and wise.

Mummy keeps my hand-made things, My lock, diaries and clumsy drawings. She looks through all my child's photos And stores them neatly in the drawers.

I know exactly, without a contest My Mummy is a wonder, she is the best, My Mummy is an angel from Heaven in my life Because with her it `s easy, quiet and light!!!

I am sure that every mother will be happy to hear such lines:

"My Mummy is a wonder, she is the best,

My Mummy is an angel "

Your poem is nice and marvellous!
