As a child I was naughty and stubborn you thought
So much sleepless nights to my mother I 've brought
My first duty is now to kneel to your feet with a hot
Can forgive me the offences, that you have got
I am tired a lot of such life and became gray hair
All my years were tests not too easy not fair
I did not want to think, but I knew as my brother
That one day you will go away, dear mother,
I must beg your pardon for my words and behave
Sorry I don't lay the flowers on your grave,
I can write simple lines, just for you, oh my dear,,
And your image has been in my heart very near.
What I speak to my friends, what I do, wherever I go,
You are guarding me from all evil, as angel wings, though
I believe, there is no thing in the world that I know
Mother's love and her prayer for child .I hope so.
