My veterans

My veterans, my veterans,

Thank you, I want to say.

You have given their lives for us

And for us go again and again.

Knowing, you wouldn't return back,

Knowing that a bullet can go in the heart.

Don't cry now!

Don't cry!

Thank you, I want to say

Of course, I understand everything

You can't forget the noise of bullets

But today we congratulate you

And we wish you the war to forget.

Let your grandchildren and great-grandchildren

Are proud of you,

And let more often remember

Those guys who couldn't return back.

Then you went without fear,

One couldn't return from the war.

And today you've got thanks,

Those, who returned, from a pure soul!
