One day I'll plunge into your poems,
Your words in books were like the columns.
When you composed for me the text ,
I read and thought what will be next.

Are you an angel or the selected one?
The main idea was not gone.
You put together words in lines,
I read them in the lonely nights.

Your attitude to many problems,
Was very anxious- that`s not nonsense.
You drew the picture by the world,
And made your own little world.

You liked to make your lovely nature,
By colours what are neatly matched.
You went away from life so early,
Your words are stil alive and burly .

I am sure that you understand & highly value the world of Esenin's poetry. I also guess that you also have your own poetic world as you are able to hear & feel.
It's great, but try to use English more correctly next time.
With best wishes.

your poem is good, you are only a student, but your success in writing is big enough! Good luck!
